Biography

by Jason MacNeil

Although having formed in the summer of 2002 in the Toronto area, the members of Little Sunday performed in various bands for the previous ten years. In June 2002, the group won the "Best New Unsigned Rock Band" at the Global Unsigned War, an Internet competition. Radio stations from Germany, Australia, Great Britain and North America picked up the group's The Change track and added it to their playlists. The group also was added to a Canadian compilation of the country's top unsigned groups. In October 2002, Little Sunday released its debut album Day Of Hollow on AudioFX Music. The band has performed as part of the Emergenza Festival and Canadian Music Week and continues to perform around the Toronto area. Little Sunday has also appeared on several compilation albums featuring emerging talent.
